PREFACE

ACCELERATING THE RECOVERY FROM THE PANDEMIC AND THE FULL IMPLEMENTATION OF THE 2030 AGENDA FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT FOR THE MSMEs

From the Written Declaration presented for the HIGH-LEVEL SEGMENT of UN-ECOSOC 2023

The World Union of Small and Medium Enterprises pursues the aim of representing and supporting the interests of MSMEs and Crafts with particular attention to countries with less developed economies and female entrepreneurship.

MSMEs are the backbone of many economies, providing employment opportunities, driving innovation and creativity and generating wealth and income for individuals and communities.

The COVID-19 pandemic has had a profound negative impact on most MSMEs around the world.

As we continue to navigate the aftermath of the pandemic, it is critical that we accelerate our efforts towards the full implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

If we are to be instrumental in accelerating recovery, we need to offer a system-level solution as well as field assistance.

Women are still marginalized on all fronts: financial, technical and social when they become Entrepreneurs. In this regard, Female Entrepreneurship can be the means to achieve economic independence and social empowerment.

In conclusion, the current global scenario demands a collaborative effort to accelerate the recovery of MSMEs and achieve the sustainable development goals of the Agenda 2030, sharing their best practices regarding the MSMEs ecosystem to develop an inclusive and enabling environment.

MESSAGE OF WUSME PRESIDENT, MS. BARBARA TRENZI

During 2022, the Association has been committed to further strengthening its relations with the International Organizations with which it is officially recognized, including, in particular, UNIDO and UNFCCC - COP and with the SME Organizations connected at regional and national level, seizing the opportunities for participation and intervention in the various events proposed.

Noteworthy are, in particular, the visit carried out at the UNIDO headquarters in Vienna in June 2022 and the participation in COP27 (27th edition of the United Nations Conference on Climate Change) in November 2022 with the organization of a collateral event and an exhibition space.

In addition to this, during the year the Association organized various institutional moments, in hybrid or virtual mode, including the General Assembly of Associates, meetings of the Board of Directors and the newly elected Standing Commissions for the period 2022-2025.

During the year, pathways of development have been further explored including the possibility to undertake a multilateral collaboration with UNIDO and other Partners for the implementation of programs to support SMEs in developing countries.

The Association will continue interacting with International Institutions and Organizations of related SMEs, participating in targeted initiatives shared through its means of communication.

WUSME plans also to constantly extend its network of contacts and relationships of collaboration.

Thanks are due to all the Office Bearers who have supported and made possible all the activities carried out during the year 2022 and who are recalled here below: Honorary President, Headquarters, Board of Directors, Senators, Secretary General, Permanent Commission for Economic and Financial Affairs, Permanent Commission for Social Issues and Female Entrepreneurship, Commission for the Development of MSMEs, Special Representatives, Ambassadors and Members of the Association.

session entitled “Enabling an Entrepreneurial Ecosystem for Women: Experiences from around the World”.

In her speech, WUSME President remarked how SMEs are an important part of the economy in every country of the world. “In particular – WUSME President said- we must also consider women and young enterprises. Thanks to the support of its network and opportunity for exchange between the different countries, WUSME is voice of SMEs to Institutions worldwide, to share ideas and promote best practices”.

Dr. Pauline Crawford focused her speech stating: “I am here today to represent the Permanent Commission of WUSME for Women Entrepreneurship. On behalf of WUSME, we investigated what was happening in the last COVID years in India, Africa and Asean countries. Some of the problems are similar. Women have to deal with many very facets of business and life. There is a financial and a business issue obviously, but there is always also a social issue. The ability to share is really important. WUSME is also looking at education for women entrepreneurs across the world, because education is essential for them. Women are extremely talented, have incredible natural skills for business, that maybe are underestimated”.

Dr. J S Juneja, Director WUSME attended the Shakti National Convention : Empowering Women Entrepreneurs 2022 and interacted with all the participants to continue motivating young people to set up their own business and industries, so that they may be job creators and not job hunters. They could own their business and become their own boss.

VIENNA (AUSTRIA) – JUNE 14, 2022

WUSME took part in the annual R20 AUSTRIAN WORLD SUMMIT held in Vienna on May 28th and 29th 2019. The event was attended by WUSME President Barbara Terenzi. The Austrian World Summit, at its six edition, is a long-term initiative to help regions, states and cities implementing the sustainable development goals of the UN Agenda by 2030 and achieving global climate protection goals defined in the 2015 Paris Agreement to limit climate change. During the summit, the UN General Secretary António Guterres pointed out that "renewable energies are the 21st century peace plan" and that "the window to prevent the worst impacts of the climate crisis is closing rapidly". Precisely for this reason, according to the UN General Secretary, "we need to reduce emissions by 45% by 2030 and achieve net zero emissions by the middle of the century".

Speakers, included Arnold Schwarzenegger, founder of R20 Regions of Climate Action. The former Governor of California, remotely connected, highlighted how technology plays a decisive role in the fight against climate change. “Right now – he pointed out – we have all the technology we need to leave fossil fuels in the past, to create a future in which our economy explodes and our children breathe clean air. Technology can be our savior”. Consistent with its mission and the concern towards climate change and environmental protection, WUSME is particularly engaged in enhancing the world of Small and Medium Enterprises and Crafts as stakeholders able to play an active and important role in contributing to the Sustainable Development Goals of the United Nations (SDGs) and fighting change climate, sharing their experience and implementing sustainable projects.

"My role for WUSME here, as well as for the Africa SMB Forum platform, is to defend the interests of Small and Medium Enterprises – he underlined during an interview – therefore access to debates, regulatory and legislative changes on climate change and transition and related markets. As for Africa (states, NGOs, local authorities and companies – including SMEs), the focus remains the search for a better balance in the contributions between the "polluters" countries of the North, West and East of the world, and the countries of the South – including Africans – who need to draw resources from the planet to ensure sustainable development and growth, as inclusive as possible".

WUSME AT THE HORASIS INDIA MEETING IN VIETNAM
BINH DUONG NEW CITY (VIETNAM) – SEPTEMBER 25-26, 2022

Ms. Sushma Morthania, Vice Chair of the Permanent Commission on Social Issues and Women's Entrepreneurship of WUSME, the World Union of Small and Medium Enterprises, attended the annual Horasis India Meeting held at in Binh Duong Convention and Exhibition Center in Binh Duong New City, Vietnam. Ms. Morthania took part, as Panelist, in the session focusing on "Female Leadership and Why We need it More than Ever". Multiple studies indicate that female leaders outperform their male counterparts in globally critical areas like handling the COVID-19 crisis or environmental and social governance (ESG) – including measures to counter climate change. So why do women remain vastly underrepresented in leadership positions? What mindset changes are needed? Among men? Among women? In the corporate world and political arena? Can we define the unique qualities and benefits female leaders bring to the table.

In her speech, Ms. Morthania highlighted, among other things, that "it is imperative to understand the external forces or stimuli that lead to discrimination or gender inequality at the most basic levels of society" and recommended building strong networks for sharing successful stories and supporting each other, enabling and educating.

"We need to use technology to connect and reach every MOTHER on this planet and through her, the next generation of Mankind. GENDER EQUALITY HAS TO START WITH ME – EACH WOMAN HERSELF." she concluded.

Dr. J S Juneja, Director, WUSME and Chairman, Global Projects & Services Private Limited actively participated in the "Horasis India Meeting" and addressed the meeting.

He pointed out that both the countries namely Vietnam & India have a strong entrepreneurial base of SMEs. Enterprising spirit is bountiful and are competing in supply chain management. Both can make a big success in complementing each other's strengths and capabilities.

WUSME AND CONFARTIGIANATO IMPRESE RIMINI TOGETHER TO SUPPORT SMALL AND MEDIUM ENTERPRISES

REPUBLIC OF SAN MARINO – OCTOBER 10, 2022

A meeting was held in Republic of San Marino between the top management of WUSME (World Union of Small and Medium Enterprises) and Confartigianato Imprese Rimini, represented by Barbara Terenzi president and Carlo Maiani collaborator of the WUSME president, Davide Cupioli and Gianluca Capriotti president and provincial secretary of 'Rimini Association. One theme is the possible synergies to work on common development drivers of SMEs: digital and technological innovation, environmental protection and progress in business culture.

The meeting reinvigorated the historical friendship between WUSME and Confartigianato Imprese Rimini, started in the past decades by Gianfranco Terenzi and Mauro Gardenghi, who have now disappeared and are fondly remembered during the works.

Now the link is in the role Ivano Spallanzani, former national president of Confartigianato and now consul of crafts on behalf of Confartigianato and WUSME Senator.

"We can do many things together and useful for small and medium-sized enterprises in the San Marino and Rimini area – said Barbara Terenzi and Davide Cupioli – in the wake of a historic friendship between institutions. We now collect this legacy and plan activities that give business prospects to companies, even in an international key. We have in common the sensitivity towards youth entrepreneurship, the willingness to dare to the passion for work and for the autonomous enterprise. It is increasingly necessary to support women in the world of work, protecting their rights. We will schedule training sessions, because the craftsman must be supported with the approach to technological innovation. We have promised ourselves to intensify relations and to develop awareness-raising events for administrations and public opinion".

WUSME TO PROMOTE CLIMATE ADAPTATION IN AFRICA

KAMPALA (UGANDA) – NOVEMBER 30, 2022

In its commitment to support MSMEs and CRAFTs adaptation to climate change, WUSME collaborates with Partner Organizations to explore effective solutions to climate adaptation, especially in most vulnerable sectors such as agriculture and most hit regions such as Africa. As part of this action, WUSME Director Mr. Daniel Musiitwa Ssubi attended a workshop held in Kampala (Uganda) on November 30, 2022, upon initiative of VITO, an international renowned Flemish Research and Technology Organisation (RTO), on the KLIMPALA project, a Climate Platform for Adaptation in the African Agricultural Sector. Mr. Ssubi actively contributed to the panel discussion sharing his highlights on challenges and opportunities for Ugandan SMEs in climate adaptation planning and finance.
